GIRL IS HURT, OFFICER SHOT, AT SHAMROCK

Marauder Strikes Visitor
Over the Head
With Gun.

DEPUTY IS WOUNDED

Sequel to Marauding Episode
Results in Tom Cinnamon
Being Shot by Men
With Still

Injury of a young woman at Shamrock by a marauder last night and the subsequent hunt for the intruder by a deputy sheriff who was shot and wounded by moonshiners in the chase, furnished considerable excitement in that section of the West End last night.

According to reports of neighbors, Miss Elizabeth Mountain, a visitor in the home of her sister, Mrs. Bob Killian, awoke during the night to find a marauder in the house. The man told her not to scream, that he would kill her if she any noise. Nevertheless, she screamed and the intruder struck her over the head with his gun of some heavy instrument.

The screams awoke Bob Killian who, realizing the seriousness of the situation and not having a gun, jumped out of the window to arouse the neighbors.

A few minutes after this time a car drove off from a point near the Killian home and Mr. Killian started pursuit in his car. The car in the lead drove as far as Noetown, then turned back on the road. Tom Cinnamon, deputy sheriff, had gotten with Mr. Killian during this time and when the car stopped the pursuers engaged the suspected driver in conversation.

At this juncture two men, carrying a moonshine still, approached the car. Seeing the officer, they dropped their burden and began firing at Deputy Cinnamon. He was hit on the hand, arm and in the side by the bullets, though neither of the wounds are considered serious. The attackers then fled into the woods, abandoning the still in the road. The man in the automobile also fled.

Whether or not the driver of the car had anything to do with the preceding case of moonshining is problematical. The inference drawn by the officer and those who witnessed the acts is that the man in the car previously arranged to meet the moonshiners there and convey the still to another location. The accidental meeting with the officers before the delivery of the contraband to the car put an end to the carefully laid plans. The identity of the participants in the trouble is known to the officer and those with him. A sharp lookout will be maintained for the fugitives who wounded the officer and had unlawful possession of the still.

SKELETON MAY BE OF KNOXVILLIAN

Chattanooga Officers Claim One
Found There May Be of Miss Augusta Hoffman.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 24.—That Miss Augusta Hoffman, formerly disappeared in 1915 from 15 Bluff View, this city, where a skeleton of a woman was found this week under a floor of the basement, was revealed by an investigation in Knoxville today by Detective E. H. Warren.

That the gold spectacles and the false teeth found in the grave were similar to those worn by Miss Hoffman also was established by the search in Knoxville. Meantime an investigation carried on here by Coroner Joe Hancock and Detective Joe Patton, supplied sufficient evidence for warrants to be sworn out for members of a family residing in the house at No. 15, at the time and whose arrests will be attempted tonight in a distant city, the name of which is withheld for the present.

A Knoxville modiste, a friend of Miss Hoffman's whose real name is withheld, positively identified the glasses as those of Miss Hoffman. The glasses, it was established were made by the Cook Jewelry company, Knoxville.

The Knoxville modiste also brought forth a letter written by Mrs. Charles Parker, State College, Pennsylvania, a sister of Miss Hoffman, in which she told of her disappearance.

VOLLEY OF SHOTS FIRED LAST NIGHT

Shooting Was In Progress While Cross
Burned in Northeast
Section.

A burning cross in Northeast Middlesboro at 8:30 o'clock last night was the signal for a hundred or more shots.

The lighting of the cross which was located between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets was preceded by the usual heavy explosions of dynamite. While it was burning the shooting began. Police who investigated the affair say they were fired from all makes of guns from small pistols to high-power caliber rifles. When the officers reached the section where the firing had been heard all was quiet and no one seemed to know who had taken part in it.

Neither the burning of the cross nor the shooting could be traced to any certain person or persons.

GRANDDAUGHTER OF PRES. TYLER IS DEAD

Born In Whitehouse Eighty-Two Years Ago—Dies at Montgomery.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 24.—All of Montgomery's patriotic organizations were represented yesterday in the gathering which attended the funeral of Miss Letitia Christian Tyler, born in the white house April 3, 1842, the granddaughter of John Tyler.

Miss Tyler, who died last year, was the daughter of Robert Tyler, who, upon the death of his mother, moved with his wife to the white house to be with his father. It was during this residence that Miss Tyler was born.

Robert Tyler, soon after came to Alabama and began the practice of law in Montgomery. During the Civil War he was active in the cause of the confederacy, and his daughter, Letitia Christian grew in a life after the best southern tradition.

By the express wish of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, Miss Tyler hoisted the first confederate flag over the southern capitol, now the state house of Alabama.

Record Number Cattle Pass By Sioux City

By Associated Press.
SIOUX CITY, Iowa, July 24.—The first half of 1924 has been the greatest period in history of the Sioux City stock yards, from the standpoint of number of animals handled. More than 2,548,000 cattle, hogs and sheep have been received here since the first of the year, an increase of 50,000 over the like period of 1923.

The yards also continued to hold their place as one of the largest markets in the world for hogs. More than 2,000,000 porkers have been marketed thus far this year, with receipts for the year estimated to exceed 3,500,000. Chicago, St. Louis and Omaha are the only other markets which have passed the two million mark, according to yards officials.

Alleged Klansman Are Given Freedom

MARION, Ill., July 24.—Four alleged klansmen of Herrin, Ill., charged with the murder of Jack Skelcher, following the assault on S. Glenn Young, Williamson county dry raider, and his wife, near Belleville, were released upon $15,000 bond each here last night.

The men, Max Kratch, Marion Colard, Roy Eldridge and John Crompton, have been in the Benton, Ill., jail. State's attorney Delos Dutt yesterday opposed the bonds on the grounds that the killing of Skelcher was murder and not manslaughter, but was overruled by Judge Hartwell.

TREASURY NOW IS REFUNDING TAXES

Overpayments Being Returned to Taxpayers as Result of Reduction.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 24.—The treasury is making rapid progress at refunding overpayments of taxes resulting from the twenty-five per cent reduction granted by Congress. This year's payments of almost one-third of a total of $16,000,000 have already been returned to taxpayers or are ready to mail to them.

PARK COMMITTEE NAMED BY KIWANIS

Will Interview Dr. Hubert Work Regarding Prospects for National Park.

Committee to interview Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the Interior, and go over with him the site of the proposed Lincoln National Park was appointed at the Kiwanis luncheon meeting today. The committee, consisted of R. K. Judy, A. P. Liebig and Dr. E. D. Wells. One or more of the members will probably go to Knoxville to interview the secretary on the subject.

Another committee was appointed to formulate plans for the making of a miniature state of Abraham Lincoln. This will be used as a souvenir and will, it is hoped, help to advertise the proposed national park project. The committee which will make these arrangements is composed of H. H. Overton, A. P. Liebig and C. O. Brown.

In view of the fact that the Kentucky Baptists will have a convention at Clear Creek Springs this year, a committee consisting of W. C. Stair, W. D. Motch and Dr. O. O. Stone was appointed to make arrangements for inviting the visitors to Middlesboro on a sight-seeing tour. The visitors will be taken over the proposed site of the national park and the proposition explained to them. This will, it is considered, be splendid advertising for the project throughout the state.

A letter from the Ladies' Auxiliary of Rose Hill was read in which an invitation was extended to the Kiwanis club to have a plate lunch with them at Richmond Springs between July 29 and August 15. The club unanimously voted to accept the invitation.

Dr. R. O. Matthews, billed as the speaker of the day, could not get here on account of missing railway connections at Cincinnati. A. M. Kinnard was chairman of the meeting. Mrs. E. Lenger, accompanied by Mrs. J. T. Alderson on the piano, rendered splendid vocal music. There was an unusually large attendance and much enthusiasm was shown at the meeting. A number of visitors, including Sam Myers, LaFollette mayor and Dr. George Joplin, were present.

KILLS NEGRO IN ROOM OF WIFE

Knoxville Man Kills Visitor and Servously Wounds Wife—Is Under Arrest.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 24.—G. H. Bowerman, negro, 221 York avenue, was shot through the neck and instantly killed and May Belle Barnett was shot in the abdomen and seriously wounded, when the two were found in the Barnett home, 1606 College street, by Homer Barnett, husband of the woman yesterday.

Police called to the home of the tragically arrested Barnett, who admitted he said to have started in a disagreement as to where the family should spend the Fourth of July. Ever since, according to reports, the family has been in a quarrel over the matter. Funkey is alleged to have shot his wife in the back with a shotgun loaded with two ball bearings. Funkey, officers who was attacked by a large son, who was wounded by his own knife cut in the left side which severed one rib.

Coming to her brother's rescue, Lola bet the father off with a heavy plank and cut him badly over the head and hands, it is charged.

—Citizens Aid In Rescue.

By Associated Press.
RANGER, Tex., July 24.—Six persons are known to be dead, thirteen are in a local hospital and one boy is missing as a result of a fire which destroyed the entire McCleskey Hotel block in the center of the business district. Property loss is estimated at more than $100,000.

The fire started when a gas pocket formed in the building. Hundreds of citizens aided guests of the McCleskey and Southland hotels to escape. Some hotel guests jumped from second and third story windows. While many were carried down ladders by firemen. The entire business section was threatened. None of the dead have been identified. Two bodies are known to be in the ruins.

MISSOURI FAMILY IN FREE FOR ALL MIX

Mother Near Death and Other Members Badly Injured In Home Row.

HOUSTON, Mo., July 24.—Mrs. Fred Funkey is near death from a shot wound, her son, Fred Funkey, Jr., 23, is in a critical condition from knife wounds, and her husband, aged 65, is badly cut over the face and hands and is under arrest here as the result of a free-for-all family fight yesterday at their home near Carroll, in which a daughter, Lola, 17, was engaged.

The argument precipitating the fight is said to have started in a disagreement as to where the family should spend the Fourth of July. Ever since, according to reports, the family has been in a quarrel over the matter. Funkey is alleged to have shot his wife in the back with a shotgun loaded with two ball bearings. Funkey, officers who was attacked by a large son, who was wounded by his own knife cut in the left side which severed one rib.

GLACIAL DATA IN STATE COLLECTED

Dr. Jillson Has Made Valuable Find-
In Coal Regions of Northeast Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 24.—Dr. William R. Jillson, state geologist, today intimated the early possibility of more discoveries in his latest investigation of glaciation of very early date in northeastern Kentucky, partly in the coal fields. He said field men were working for exhibits. He recently discovered a large metamorphic boulder weighing between 20,000 and 30,000 pounds on the northern fork of Licking River, Lewis county, and one weighing between 4,000 and 8,000 pounds on a branch of Licking river, near Farmers, Ky.

These boulders, sure evidences, he said of glaciation, is a distinctly new step in research work and geologists in Chicago and Washington, have agreed that the discovery upsets "all our teaching on this line."

"We now know glaciers have gone farther south than the Ohio river," he said.

Glacial pebbles and small boulders also have been discussed.

He received a report today from Prof. Frank Leverette of the United States Geological Survey, working out the details of the pleistocene period of Kentucky—a study never before attempted, Dr. Jillson said.

U.S. TO HAVE FREE STATE MINISTER

However, Will Accredited and O.
K. Credentials of New Appointee.

Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 24.—Under agreement with the British embassy, the state department made public tonight correspondence exchanged between Secretary Hughes and Ambassador Howard last month providing for the appointment in Washington of a minister to represent the Irish Free State in diplomatic intercourse with the United States.

In his communication of June 24, submitting the request that the Washington government accept this representation of the Irish Free State, Ambassador Howard told Secretary Hughes that "his majesty's government has come to the conclusion that it is desirable that the handling of matters at Washington exclusively relating to the Irish Free State should be confided to a minister plenipotentiary accredited to the United States government."

"Such a minister," the ambassador continued, "would be accredited by his majesty the king to the president of the United States and he would be furnished with credentials which would enable him to take charge of all affairs relating to the Irish Free State. He would be the ordinary channel of communication with the United States government on these matters."

Secretary Hughes replied under date of June 28, quoting from the ambassador's letter and continuing:

"Responding to the hope you express on behalf of your government that the government of the United States will concur in the appointment of an Irish Free State minister in conformity with the proposals of his majesty's government as set out in your note, I have the honor and the pleasure to inform you that the president, always happy to meet the wish of his majesty's government in every way, will be pleased to receive a duly accredited representative."

Experience.

Associated Press.
BERLIN, July 24.—Only two members of the present communist delegation in the Reichstag can be classified as belonging to the intelligentsia. One of them is a lawyer the other, Ruth Fischer, a university graduate. All the rest are plain workers. It is also an interesting fact that there is not one member of the communist delegation but has at some time or other been in prison for political offenses.

The metal workers claim 12, seven are office workers, five are miners, five carpenters, three musicians, two railway workers, two transport workers, one a cook, and one is a professional man.

Other trades represented in the communist delegation are printing, tobacco raising, shoe making and house painting.

YOUNG MAN LOST; CLOTHING FOUND

Bowling Green Man Mysteriously Disappears—Car Found Parked on the Street.

By Associated Press.
BOWLING GREEN, July 24.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of Eugene Jones, 30, auto paint shop proprietor whose machine was found parked at the foot of State street last night and whose clothes were discovered at 3 o'clock in the morning at a block distant on the bank of Barron river.

Jones had just returned from a two days' fishing trip. He had told his wife he was going to the river for a swim; he took an extra suit of clothing, however. His wife says he has been worrying somewhat over financial affairs.

GEN. DAUGHERTY AT LEGION MEET

Addresses Ex-Service Men on Principles of Legion Constitution.

By Associated Press.
BARDSTOWN, July 24.—The ten reasons given in the preamble of the constitution of The American Legion for the association of former service men were analyzed by Attorney General Frank E. Daugherty of Kentucky today in the principal address of the opening day's program of the state convention of the Legion.

The address was a unique one. The attorney general argued the cause of the American Legion as he has many times argued important cases before the Court of Appeals, Kentucky's highest court.

He had before him only a copy of the American Legion Weekly, the official publication of the Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary. On the editorial page, he first read the preamble, which appears therein each week. He then took up section after section of the preamble, arguing the cause of the Legion and Americanism.

Bardstown is the attorney general's home town.

"It is the destined duty of The American Legion to bridge the differences between all classes of conflicting prejudices in American life," General Daugherty told members of the state organization of the Legion.

In an analysis of the preamble of the Legion's constitution, he argued the Legion's cause, step by step, reaching this conclusion of his conception of the Legion's duty:

"There should be no impassable abyss between the few who are rich and the many who are poor—there should be no impassable abyss between those of different creed or nationality, but if such abyss exists between capital and labor, or between any other classes, it is for you—members of The American Legion—to build a bridge that can cross from one side to the other and mingle as one people should."

"I would make the abutments of that bridge of the rocks of eternal justice—I would plant them in clean American soil, not poisoned by the of-fal from any undesirable citizenship."

"I would make the girders of that bridge of steel, heated by the flame of tolerance—I would fasten them with the rivets of brotherly love, the floor of the concrete of the spirit of live and let live, and around that bridge I would place as sentinel, the boys of The American Legion, scattered as they are in all parts of our country, because I know that they would be vigilant to see that the cruel winds of intolerance and passion should never do it harm nor would they allow the flood of hate wash this structure from its moorings."

He drew this picture after a declaration that the Legionnaires' creed, to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America, "this great bulwark of American liberty and its defense upon all questions, is safe" in their hands.

Fifteen Witnesses Called to Testify In Hearing This Morning—Boys Are Composed.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 24.—Continuing with a mass of evidence designed to send Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold to the gallows for the kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks, State's Attorney Crowe today produced in court exhibits in the state's chain of evidence. These included the cold chisel used in beating the victim to death, charred remains of the blood-stained automobile robe rescued from a bonfire on the lake front, a portable typewriter similar to that on which ransom letters were written and paper and envelopes identified as of the same texture that Leopold was sold shortly before the disappearance of Robert Franks.

The state also introduced a pint bottle identified as the one in which hydrochloric acid was sold to Leopold on the day of the murder.

Throughout the morning session during which fifteen witnesses were summoned, the two young college students sat composedly behind their attorneys listening intently. More witnesses were still awaiting call when the afternoon session resumed at 2 o'clock.

Laymen's Visit to Be One of Great Interest

Because of the fact that the Billy Sunday Club of Knoxville, members of which will be in Middlesboro Sunday, is entirely nonsectarian in character, the visit here should be of interest to every church member in this city.

These men, fifteen in number, will be in Middlesboro all day Sunday, having charge of the morning and evening services at the First Presbyterian Church. In the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, they will hold a large mass meeting for the men of the city at this same church. Every one is invited to the two church services and all of the men of Middlesboro are invited to the afternoon mass meeting.

NEW LAW PERMITS LIFE REGISTRATION

Registration This Year Will Begin On Second Monday In September.

FRANKFORT, July 24.—There is a new law on the statute books providing for life-time registration in cities of the first, second, third and fourth classes, Attorney General Frank E. Daugherty has served notice.

Voters should bear in mind that the registration this year will begin on the second Monday in September and continue for two days. Those expecting to vote in the future should register.

The primary election law in Kentucky provides that the election officers shall be equally divided between the two dominant parties and that these officers shall be chosen by the county election board which is likewise divided between the two political parties; with the sheriff of the county who may be democrat or republican, as umpire.

SYRIA STILL SUBJECT OF FRENCH RULE

Weygand Returns to Take Charge of Country.

MAY USE SOLDIERS

Syria Enjoys So-Called Independence, Though France Is Real Ruler of the Country.

Associated Press.

BEIRUT, Syria, July 24.—The recent return of General Weygand, the French high commissioner for Syria, has had at least the effect of silencing the persistent rumors that he was not returning to his post after going to France on leave.

Reports that he would resign immediately he reached Paris were set at rest before General Weygand turned his back to Syria. It was even asserted that on reaching Paris he informed the French cabinet that he would not return to Syria except at the head of several divisions of troops with which to put down the incursions of Turkish bandits to the north and maintain order within Syria proper.

Although his plans are not known it is safe to assume that General Weygand will make no drastic changes in the French administration. The French system of governing Syria has been, and will probably continue, one of conferring make-believe independence on the governed. The French have set up a native government with titles of independence for high officials. There is, for instance, a native "President of the Syrian Confederation" and a governor of Damascus. Actually, these officials are without power, all the authority being left in the hands of the French. The "President of the Syrian Confederation" may not sign an administrative order of any kind without approval of the French high commissioner.

In the selection of men for posts with high sounding names, the French have displayed much ingenuity. The idea seems to have been to buy off rebels and persons likely to make trouble. The "President of the Syrian Confederation" is none other than a former brigand leader in a revolt against the French. Together with his office, the French conferred upon him the highest grade of the Legion of Honor.

In French administrative circles it is claimed that in a country like Syria with 35 unequal religious groups represented in the population, the mandatory power has to enforce its authority even though it frequently leads to accusations that the French have stupidly annexed Syria.

WEATHER GOOD FOR HARVEST OF GRAIN

Corn Tasseling In This Section—Was Retarded Some by Cool Weather.

LOUISVILLE, July 24.—Except for frequent and quite heavy rains in the extreme western counties, the week was generally dry and favorable for threshing and the completion of hay and oats harvest. A fine crop of oats is in shock and generally well cured. Most hay was saved in good condition, but showers interfered and damaged it to some extent in the section west of the lower Green River.

Except on the last two days, when temperatures returned to normal, the weather was unseasonably cool—too cool for corn to grow as rapidly as desirable. Corn made very good progress however, the abundant sunshine offsetting to a marked degree the effects of the low temperature. Steady progress with cultivation of the stable crops brought farm work nearly abreast of crop advancement. Early corn is being laid by in clean condition and most tobacco has been cleaned out. In general, both crops are in a satisfactory state of cultivation.

The earliest corn is tasseling in the northern counties, and is beginning to ear in the southern district; but only a small part of the crop has reached such a stage. Some fields of moderately early corn, in districts with compact clay soils, show great irregularity in the size of plants, which is believed to be due in part at least to the stunting effect of the previous wet weather. Early tobacco is making satisfactory progress. It is fairly even on the field and ranges in size from a foot to 18 inches high. Practically none has reached the topping stage as yet.

Late tobacco improved, but remains very irregular and generally discouragingly small. Moisture has been sufficient to keep pastures in good condition, and to keep young clover growing and resistant after the removal of the grain crops. Soybeans and cowpeas are making excellent progress. Most late potatoes have been planted. The second cutting of alfalfa is being harvested. Early cotton is blooming freely. Cultivation of the later portion of the crop was delayed by showers.

AIR ROUTE MAPPED FOR FLIGHT BLIMP

Meteorologists Make Air Chart for One Republican Correspondent.

By Associated Press.

July 24.—Virtually every air mile of the Atlantic over which the ZR 3 is likely to fly in her trip from this port to Lakehurst, N. J., possibly some time in August or September, has been charted by meteorologists employed by the Zeppelin company here. The task has taken many months, and the investigators have examined records of atmospheric phenomena covering a period of 25 years. The results of their labors have been tabulated in chart form, arranged so as to be easily read by the dirigible navigators, and are considered an invaluable asset for the pilots who will have the past performances of the weather and climate to refer to during the voyage.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, who will pilot the big ship to America, expects to return to Germany after the trip to continue his work here. Captain Ernest A. Lehmann, one of the ZR 3 navigating officers who will make the flight, will remain in the United States, as will some of the other expert members of the crew.

It was announced recently that the initial trial flight could not possibly be made before the latter part of August or early in September owing to decision of the officials to scrap the crank cases of the Maybach motors and replace them with new ones.

When completed, the officials contend, the ZR 3 will have its driving power five engines superior to those of any other airship ever built, and fully capable of making the great non-stop hop from Friedrichshaven, bordering on the Alps, to the lowlands of New Jersey.

Scrap of Paper

DETROIT, July 23.—Thomas McCarthy, 14, picked up a fancy looking piece of paper outside the Detroit post-office and carelessly thrust it into a pocket. Then he forgot about it. Next morning his father discovered the paper to be a draft for $300,000 on a New York bank and returned it to the Detroit bank.

Football Talk Begins On University Campus

LEXINGTON, July 24.—Football talk is occasionally heard on the campus of the University of Kentucky these days, although fall is quite some ways off.

Coch Charles Murphy of the varsity eleven today said he has his men in line for the opening of the season. George Buchheit, formerly coach of the freshman team, will act as scout of opposing teams for the varsity team while Ray Ecklund of the University of Minnesota will be coach of the freshman team, as well as freshman athletics. Ecklund reports here September 1. He graduated from the University of Minnesota in June. A. A. Bates, athletic director, made the announcement.

A few former members of the university's teams will help the new freshman coach, who was mentioned as a selection for the mythical All-America football team and was given the position of end on All-Western and All-Conference elevens in 1923.

Buchheit will continue as head coach of track and basketball.

MANY TOWNS WANT 1925 LEGION MEET

Dawson Springs, Winchester, Frankfort, Make Informal Bids for Convention.

BARDSTOWN, July 21.—Hardly had the 1924 convention of the state department of The American Legion opened today when bids for the 1925 conventions were informally made. Mr. Sterling, Dawson Springs, Winchester, Frankfort, Richmond and some other posts were actively in the field for the honor of host next year. It was Frankfort that fought with Bardstown at Ashland for the 1924 meeting here.

At the same time, Stanford delegates were advertising the third annual American Legion Fair to be held there August 6, 7 and 8.

The Somerset delegation brought camping equipment along and camped on the outskirts of Bardstown. Reservations, made by C. R. Barnes, Jr., chairman of the local housing committee, had been filled in private homes, hotels, and apartments.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held a reception of My Old Kentucky Home Post and Abraham Lincoln Post, colored, and arranged a reproduction of slave days at the park.

Both Ashland and Louisville posts sent their delegates in pullman cars, sidetracked at the Louisville & Nashville depot here. Other posts that had filed reservations were: Dawson Springs 20; Ashland 20; Louisville 35; Mt. Sterling 29; Liberty 25; Paintsville 19; Cynthia 10; Mayfield 10; Somerset 25; Paducah 6; Winchester 7; Williamsburg 2; Bowling Green 2; Stanford 8; Greenville 4; Madisonville 4; Harlan 2; and Calhoun 2.

Flag poles had been erected on either side of Third Street and flags, ribbons, and bunting waved there today while a large flag flew from the court house.

Band music was heard intermittently throughout the day. The Ashland band, 30 strong, the Bardstown Old Star Band, the Springfield troop band of the National Guard, and a Scotch Highlander band, were among those parading the streets.

The arrival of National Commander John R. Quinn of California, head of The American Legion, was eagerly awaited.

Another Regatta to Be Held at State Capital

FRANKFORT, July 23.—Swimming, canoeing, and motorboat racing have swung into full form along this part of the Kentucky River. Admiral Edmund Watson Taylor today announced another regatta similar to the one held recently in which college teams took part will be held before fall. He said he is considering racing his flagship, the "Maytime," against Jay King's speedboat along a long stretch with the finish under the high bridge in Frankfort.

Admiral Taylor was commissioned to command the Kentucky river and its tributaries recently by Acting Governor Perry. Today he wrote the navy yard at Washington, D. C., upon suggestion of Adj. General James A. Kehoe of the national guard, for an admiral's flag.

The newly commissioned admiral, the second Kentuckian to be so commissioned in the history of the Commonwealth, has invited Gov. Fields on an official tour of the river in the interest of promoting aquatic sports.

At one of his camps, "Rest-A-While," observation platforms have been rigged up in a giant elm overlooking the river.

More Indians Yearly

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The number of Indians in America is steadily increasing, the annual report of the commission of Indian affairs reveals. "Since 1913 the Indian population has increased more than 13,000," the report says, "until now they number 211,302."

OFFICERS NOT DUE REWARD FOR DUTY

Opinion of Attorney General—Says It Would Be Bad Precedent for the State.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 21.—The State of Kentucky will pay no reward for apprehending a horse thief.

Attorney General Frank E. Daugherty today gave as his opinion that to sanction payment of such reward to W. H. Shanks, auditor, to a Simpson county sheriff would establish bad precedent. His opinion in brief was that:

"Law officers, whose official duty it is to make arrests, might be induced to delay making them until rewards should be offered; and consequently criminals might escape arrest and punishment."

It is a familiar rule of law that no officer shall demand nor receive any other or greater fee than is allowed by law.

Public policy is against an agreement to pay money to a sheriff or other public officer for doing what he ought to do.

A public officer, such as a sheriff, constable or policeman, is not entitled to a reward offered for the arrest or conviction of a criminal where the service performed is within the scope or line of the duties of such officer.

Photographs by Wire Are Now Practical

Immediately after the invocation was pronounced at the opening of the Republican National Convention in Cleveland, a flashlight was taken of the assembled delegates. This was at 11:20 o'clock. At 1:56 p. m. central standard time, a supply of negatives had been processed for newspaper reproduction and were ready for distribution to the press in New York, the picture having been transmitted over the telephone wires by the new process recently perfected by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The picture was published in the afternoon papers.

It takes less than five minutes to transmit a picture over the long distance telephone wires. Distance makes no difference in the speed and accuracy of the transmission. The apparatus which has been designed, as at present adjusted, will transmit a picture 5 inches by 7 inches, a positive transparency film being suitable for transmission. The picture is received in such form that after the usual photographic development it is ready for newspaper or other reproduction. Line drawings, handwriting and printing, if not too small, can also be transmitted. Films, while still wet, can be used for transmission, so that the system eliminates the delay which would otherwise be caused by drying.

"Last Man's" Club to Adopt Different Plan

STILLWATER, Minn., July 23.—The idea on which the Last Man's Club, Minnesota's most unique organization, was founded, was changed at the annual banquet of the organization here Monday, which was attended by three of the four surviving members.

Hitherto, it had been the intention to hold the meetings every year on July 21 until one man survives of the thirty-four original members of the club, which was formed in 1886, by men who had belonged to Company B, 1st Minnesota Volunteers.

The "Last Man" was then to open a bottle of wine that has stood on the table at every banquet and to drink a toast to the thirty-three departed members.

It was decided today to "close the books" of the club when but two members survive. These two will jointly open the bottle of wine, it was agreed and there will be no further meetings.

Radio Headsets Will Be Worn by Policemen

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, July 22.—Radio listening for the prevention of crime and detection of criminals is soon to be employed extensively here, Chief of Police Graut has announced.

Small sets with headphones are to be installed on every signal car and motorcycle. Radio sets will have only one wave length, but will enable motorcycle officers in outlying districts to listen in on bulletins from the central station.

Luther's Handwriting Brings Highest Price

Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 2.—Martin Luther's handwriting commanded a higher price even than autographs by Goethe and Schiller at an auction of autographs here. A letter addressed to the Elector John of Saxony brought 9,100 marks.

The second highest price, 5,000 marks, was paid for a verified and authenticated letter by Goethe to Merck in the year 1771. Schiller's poem, "Der Alpenjäger" (The Alpine Hunter) came third, with 3,000 marks.

A Schopenhauer autograph brought only 500 marks. A number of Schiller and Wieland letters found no bidders. Six pages of Helms' poems were auctioned off at 670 marks.

Leopold and Loeb Pleading Guilty

Here are Nathan L. Leopold Jr. (left) and Richard Loeb, 19-year-old sons of millionaires, at the bar in Chief Justice John H. Coker's court pleading guilty to the kidnapping and murder of 14-year-old Robert Frank. Leopold, the so-called "intellectual," was dressed fastidiously as they came into court. And both outwardly were calm as they walked to the bench. Leopold, however, is gazing downward, but Loeb is looking straight at the judge. The strain, though, is not visible in the faces of both.

"BROWNIE" TALES AUTHOR IS DEAD

Dies at Quebec Today—Was An Interesting Personality, Gifted Writer.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Palmer Cox, author of the Brownie stories for children, died today at Grady, Quebec. He was unmarried.

Palmer Cox was "Father of the Brownies," and through his writings and pictures of the antics of those elfish creatures he made himself beloved by children, especially those of a generation ago, when he introduced his Brownie stories.

Mr. Cox was born in Grady, Quebec, a Scotch-Irish settlement, April 28, 1840, and it was the folk-lore of the Grampian Mountains that the early Scotch settler brought to the little Canadian colony where Cox was born that he drew his inspiration for the Brownies. He did not, however, introduce the public to Brownieland until he was past forty years of age.

As a boy he went to California and found employment in a railroad office but he had little success in business. In his school days he had shown his cleverness at drawing caricatures, but had hesitated to pursue an artistic career. In view of the struggles he knew it involved. When he failed in the railroad business, however, he became a cartoonist on the San Francisco papers, and his work attracted attention all over the country. In 1876 he was prevailed upon by an artist friend to open a studio in New York. His animal drawings especially won the fancy of critics and found an eager following among the readers of children's magazines.

His first Brownies were drawn in 1880 to illustrate a humorous manuscript written by Arthur Gilman, called the Rebellion of the Alphabet. In Cox's picture each letter was carried by a Brownie, and this was the first appearance of the little elf.

A distinctive feature of the verses that went with Cox's pictures was the cardinal rule that the people of Brownieland could never repeat a task they had once performed. "In this connection," said Cox once, "I remember how I got my Brownies into a fix that came near ending them. It happened, as you may remember, that they were wrecked on an island, and not being able to build another ship, were in a terrible predicament.

Mr. Cox's five published Brownie volumes are: "The Brownies, their Book," "Another Brownie Book," "The Brownies at Home," "The Brownies Around the World," and "The Brownies Through the Union." Among his other works are: "Squibs of California" (1874), "Hans Von Pelter's Trip to Gotham" (1878), "How Columbus Found America" (do) "That Stanley" (do), "Comic Yarns" (1888), "Queer People" three volumes (do) a cantata for children called "The Brownies in Fairyland" and a spectacular play for the stage called "Palmer Cox's Brownies."

"Code of the Sea" Cast Have Narrow Escape—Picture at Manning Tomorrow.

Caught in the very jaws of a terrific storm at sea while working aboard the light-ship Relief eight miles out of the San Francisco harbor, thirty members of Victor Fleming's "Code of the Sea" company narrowly escaped drowning.

"The storm came up about noon," related Rod La Roque, who is featured in the Byron Morgan story for Paramount with Jacqueline Logan.

"All of us were so interested in the spectacular water stuff we were filming that we ignored the intensity of the gale. When it came time for our tug to come to take us off the light-ship we found that it could not approach the anchored craft.

"In a driving rain sailors helped us into small boats in which we were to make our way to the tug, which stood off about twenty yards waiting to pick us up. None of us ever knew that twenty yards of water could contain so much fury. One of our little shell-capsized throwing three extra men into the teeth of the racing waves. Fortunately they were picked up before anything happened to them. "We all got a thrill that won't be seen on the screen, but it was of in-

Shiek Type of Hero Abdicates For Americans

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—The day of the "shiek" in motion pictures is gone, killed by the "American type," according to leading stars and directors of Hollywood.

The foreign-looking heroes have lost their vogue, and fall styles in leading men for the films demand plain Americans.

The women who have to play opposite the male stars of the screen are said to have had a great deal to do with the passing of the shiek.

Said one, "See America first, is my slogan, and that goes for leading men as well as for the Grand Canyon." "Patent leather hair and passionate black eyes—worn half closed—are all right in their places, but they are not part of the make-up of a real American," declared another star.

University of Michigan Campus Has Models of Ten Centuries Ago.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., July 24.—Buildings of the type of a thousand years ago, and more, are rising on the University of Michigan campus here as the first "structures to house the Michigan Law Club become an actuality.

Walls of Gothic type copied from ancient structures in Picardy and Champagne, or certain famous cathedrals in England, are being reared here by new world workmen who, instead of following the hand chisel work of early craftsmen, are making dexterous use of the numberless facilities of the age of electricity and the trip-hammer.
